

The numbers in the figures and further figures created in the same way are called hexagonal numbers. Without proof, find a formula for the  $n$ th hexagonal number, and use it to show that 2016 is a hexagonal number.

