

A sample of ideal gas of 1 mole expands at constant pressure, during which it absorbs 100 J thermal energy, and its temperature increases by 4 °C. What kind of molecules may the gas contain?